DOCUMENT RESUME

ED 176 745 IR 007 690

AUTHOR Winters, Robert, Comp.
TITLE School/Public Library Cooperation.
PUB DATE 78
NOTE 8p.

EDRS PRICE MF01/PC01 Plus Postage.
DESCRIPTORS *Library Cooperation; *Public Libraries; *School Libraries

ABSTRACT

Bibliographic citations and annotations are provided for 54 publications related to public library-school library cooperation; the period covered is May 1972 to January 1978. (JD)

****
* Reproductions supplied by EDRS are the best that can be made *
* from the original document. *
****

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION & WELFARE
NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF EDUCATION

THIS DOCUMENT HAS BEEN REPRODUCED EXACTLY AS RECEIVED FROM THE PERSON OR ORGANIZATION ORIGINATING IT. POINTS OF VIEW OR OPINIONS STATED DO NOT NECESSARILY REPRESENT OFFICIAL NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF EDUCATION POSITION OR POLICY

ED176745

SCHOOL/PUBLIC LIBRARY COOPERATION

Compiled by

Robert Winters

"PERMISSION TO REPRODUCE THIS MATERIAL HAS BEEN GRANTED BY

Ethel Bloesch

TO THE EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES INFORMATION CENTER (ERIC)."

IR007690

SCHOOL/PUBLIC LIBRARY COOPERATION

A selected bibliography of materials published from May, 1972 to January, 1978. Compiled by Robert Winters, Graduate Student, University of Iowa Library School.

Note: An effort was made to avoid duplicating entries in Edna B. Berg's "Bibliography of Public/School Library Cooperation" which appeared in Children's Library Service: School or Public? edited by J. Gorden Burke and Gerald R. Shields. Scarecrow, 1974, pp. 113-127.

"Action Exchange." American Libraries 9(January, 1978): 29-30.
A question sent to the editors about housing a public library branch in a school building is given various answers, both pro and con.

Amey, L.J. and Smith, R.J. "Combination School and Public Libraries; an Attitudinal Study." Canadian Library Journal 33(June, 1976): 251-261.

Baker, D. Philip. "School and Public Library Programs and Information Dissemination." School Media Quarterly 5(Winter, 1977): 119-127.
The school Media Specialist will concentrate on curriculum planning, management of instructional systems.

Baker, D. Philip. School and Public Library Media Programs for Children and Young Adults. Syracuse, N.Y.: Gaylord, 1977.
Descriptive report of "exemplary" media programs in school and public libraries.

Barron, Robert E. "Public Library Systems Report on Interlibrary Loans to School Libraries." Bookmark 36(Summer, 1977): 106-109.
Report on success of requiring public school districts to use the public libraries for ILL requests before sending them to the state library in New York State.

Burke, J.G. and Shields, G.R., eds. Children's Library Service: School or Public? Metuchen, N.J.: Scarecrow, 1974.
Reprints of articles from American Libraries. Includes articles in major journals from Jan.,1970 to Mar., 1973.

Calkins, Ann. "How to Develop TLC Between the T's, L's and C." Ohio Library Association Bulletin 47(October, 1977): 10-12.
Report of two-year pilot project of liaison between school and public library to establish a system of communication between them.

"Charlie Calls for New Public Library." British Columbia Library Association Reporter 18(March-April, 1975): 3+ .
Coquitlan city council feels that the combined school/public library gives superb school service but only mediocre public service. A more balanced administration is wanted and more effective use of money.

Coffeng, Sheila. "White Oaks Affair." Canadian Library Journal 31(Dec., 1974): 509-516. Haycock, K. Canadian Library Journal 32(April, 1975): 145. Letter of commentary.

Dual administration, separate budgets, completely integrated adult/H.S. collections, and reserve system contribute to successful pooling resources. Better collection, optimum use of tax dollars and better liaison between libraries and community.

Cole, Gayle. "Public Library/School Library Cooperation: Who Needs It?" ALA, Public Library Assoc. Newsletter 16(Summer, 1977): 15.

List of steps and actions for a public librarian's visit to a school and its library.

"Combined School/Public Library Reduces Cost by $500,000." American School and University 47(July, 1975): 10-12.

Large savings in successful planning of a combined building. Increase in book borrowing, also.

Committee on Networking, American Association of School Librarians. "Role of School Media Programs in Networks and Interlibrary Cooperation." Wisconsin Library Bulletin 73(Nov.-Dec., 1977): 259-62.

Lists needs, potential benefits, and recommendations for involvement of school media programs in interlibrary systems.

"D.C. Branch Library Set Up in School Building." Library Journal 99(December 1, 1974): 3086.

A public library, located in an elementary school, serves adults and elementary school children from the local and near-by schools.

Doerschuk, Helen. "A New Cooperation-Public and School Libraries." Pennsylvania Library Association Bulletin 29(May, 1974): 113-114.

An encouraging report on the assistance offered by a public library of additional materials to a junior high school.

Dougherty, Richard, et al. "Cooperation: a Library Journal Mini-Symposium." Library Journal 97(May 15, 1972): 1767-75. Munn, R.F. Comment. Library Journal 97(Sept. 1, 1972): 2668.

Gives a broad overview of cooperation among various types of libraries and systems. Six articles on cooperation of libraries by teachers and library administrators. A letter of comment followed in Sept.

Downes, Valerie J. "Complimenting and Cooperating! Total Library Service to Children Through Maximum Use of the Children's Room and the Media Center." Illinois Libraries 57(January, 1975): 31-34.

Gives an overview of cooperation programs, including a community learning center staffed by teachers, librarians, parents, and other specialists.

Drescher, Robert A. "Children's Services/School Services Liaison" Illinois Libraries 58(Dec., 1976): 821-23.

Chicago suburban library system received LSCA money to develop consultant's position for coordination and cooperation of all types of libraries.

Dyer, Esther R. "New Perspective on Cooperation in Library Services to Children." School Media Quarterly 5(Summer 1977): 261-270.
Report on a doctoral thesis using a research tool suitable to subjects with no real models existing (Delphi). Cooperation, while not overtly resisted by institutions, will not be actively pursued either. Pressure to cooperate must come from the public.

Eberhart, W. Lyle. "Public Library and School Library: Organizational Relationships and Service Patterns." Wisconsin Library Bulletin 68(July-Aug., 1972): 207-08.
Relates state policies fostering public library systems development, the Library Division evaluation of cooperation projects, and the encouragement of formal agreements by library systems with all types of libraries for appropriate sharing of resources.

Eldred, Heather. "Cooperation With Potential: Wisconsin Valley School and System Libraries." Wisconsin Library Bulletin 70(Jan.-Feb., 1974): 35.
A successful, although limited, cooperation of the regional library service and students and faculty. Needs encouragement.

Emrich, Marvin. "School Audiovisual Department Located in Library." Wyoming Library Roundup 28(Dec., 1973): 40.
By storing the Casper school district a-v center at the county library common goals and unnecessary expense can be resolved.

Fairfax County Public Library, Virginia. School-Housed Public Library Committee Report 1973. Arlington, Virginia: ERIC Document Reproduction Service, ED 111 328, 1973.
Combination of school and public libraries was studied, case studies included, and several surveys conducted.

Fleming, Lois D. "Community Education and Public Libraries: Cooperation or Conquest." Wilson Library Bulletin 52(December, 1977): 319-23.
The public library, for self-preservation, must be part of the cooperative community education system and its planning. Nontraditional approaches in education need nontraditional approaches in librarianship.

Garrison, Guy, ed. Total Community Library Service. Chicago: ALA, 1973.
Discusses trends in education affecting library services, new ways services are being delivered, and efforts in coordinating library services for the community.

Haycock, Ken. The School Media Center and the Public Library; Combination or Cooperation. Toronto: Ontario Library Association, 1974. (Also available through ERIC. Arlington, Virginia: ERIC Document Reproduction Service, ED100 293, 1974).
Argues against school-housed public libraries; the two institutions are too different.

Haycock, Ken. "To Combine or Not to Combine the School Media Center and the Public Libraries." National Association of Secondary School Principals Bulletin 59(Sept., 1975): 67-73.
Lists some needed criteria for successful combination. The student reads more where both school and public library exist.

Hoffman, L. Jean. "Children and Library Visible in Extended and Enriched Program." Ohio Library Association Bulletin 45(April, 1975): 32-33.
School tax money was given to the E. Cleveland Public Library to develop and conduct a special instructional program. Although hard work, program gave the library more exposure and use.

Horncastle, Dale R. "Public Library Within a School: Can It Work?" Atlantic Provinces Library Association Bulletin 37(Winter, 1973): 106-07.
A successful combination of a public library housed in a school of declining enrollment in Marysville, New Brunswick.

Johnson, Walter W. "Public Library/School Cooperation." California School Libraries 48(Winter, 1977): 2-5.
Discusses cooperative use of audiovisual materials.

Joint Committee of the National Education Association and the American Library Association. Schools and Public Libraries Working Together in School-Library Service. Washington, D.C.: National Education Association of the U.S., 1941.
Primarily a position statement by the NEA and the ALA with some case studies of library cooperation.

Kitchens, James A. The Olney Venture: An Experiment in Coordination and Merger of School and Public Libraries. Denton, Texas: North Texas State University, 1975.
Reviews the combination of the public library with the school library into one "information delivery system." Includes suggestions for beginning such a system, the library constitution, and summary of the questionnaire sent out.

Kreigh, Helen L. "School/Public Library Access; Southwest Wisconsin Explores Cooperative Action." Wisconsin Library Bulletin 71(May-June, 1975): 109-110.
Tries to bring services to region without a town of 30,000. Discusses some specific programs.

Lange, Philip and Hug, William E. "School, the Community, and the Media: Nostalgic Imagery and Modern Reality." National Elementary Principal 54(Jan./Feb., 1975): 50-56.
Examines ways of extending services of the school media center, part of the community catalyst for developing intellectual talent.

Laughlin, Mildred. "School Media Center-Public Library Relationships." Minnesota Libraries 25(Summer, 1976): 47-50.
Gives brief history of concept of consolidation and specific arguments that separate roles be maintained.

Lindaner, Dinah. "Regional Coordination: A Modest Proposal." Bookmark 34(May-June, 1975): 135-37.
Describes the beginning of school/public library cooperation through an interlibrary loan system in Nassau Library System.

McShane, Virginia. "Best of Two Worlds: a Public Librarian Working With Schools." California School Libraries 46(Spring, 1975): 6-10.
Periodical visits to the Santa Monica Public Library by school children and school librarians have led to a better awareness of changing modes of education and what the public library offers.

MacWilliams, Patricia. "Library Shelters Youth Center: Highland Falls Alternate Learning Center Changes Kids." Wisconsin Library Bulletin 72(May-June, 1976): 111-12+ .
Serving as a catalyst for new programs, an innovative, non-graded multimedia educational facility works out of a local library with volunteers offering basic skills, tutoring, and individualized attention.

Middleton, G. and Scott, J.N. "Wendell Smith Library: a Cooperative Venture in Chicago." Illinois Libraries 58(September, 1976): 553-54.
A Chicago experiment combining an elementary school library and a branch of the Public Library.

"Public Library and School Cooperation." Wyoming Library Roundup 27(Dec., 1972): 4-12.
Tells of cooperation encouraged among libraries by fire. Also bookmobile support, a combined branch public library and school library, and an audio-visual union catalog.

Robbers, Sandra. "Southwest Cooperation Grows; Intertype Library Activities Expand Services." Wisconsin Library Bulletin 72(Nov.-Dec., 1976): 261+ .
Discusses new types of cooperation within the system, including workshops for public and school librarians.

Roth, Harold, L. "Cooperative Storage of Collections in Support of Educational Programs." Ohio Media Spectrum 29(January, 1977): 9-13.
A system of cooperative storage will improve the support of the library for an effective educational program. Such a system assures availability of materials at peak need.

Sayre, Samuel. "Shoshone-Bannock Library and Media Center." Idaho Librarian 28 (April, 1976): 64-65.
Shoshone-Bannock Indian tribes moved to a new center and coordinated activities with various educational programs.

"School-Library Cooperation Can Misfire, Says Librarian." Library Journal 98 (May 15, 1973): 1626.
Using two previous examples, a Connecticut librarian warns of a possible loss of circulation and general anonymity if a branch library is forced to move into a public school.

"School/Library Cooperation in Minnesota and Pennsylvania." Library Journal 100 (October 15, 1975): 1881-82.
News article about successful projects in cooperation.

"School/Library Cooperation: New Mergers Reported." Library Journal 99(July, 1974): 1753.
New cooperation on an Indian reservation and in Colorado.

"School/Public Co-op.: Signs of Progress." Library Journal 99(January 15, 1974): 90.
Relates overall success of programs in Colorado, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, and Connecticut.

Unger, Carol P. "School-Housed Public Library, Revisited." M.A. thesis, University of Chicago, 1975.
No definite conclusion, however, general sense is that combination is not successful. Reports on 61 school-housed public libraries.

"Utah Broadens School Service; Staff Sharing in Illinois." Library Journal 101 (May 15, 1976): 1173.
Effective uses of resources in Utah and Illinois.

Van Orsdel, Darrell E. "Cooperation With Results; Ramsey County Libraries/Media Centers Serve All." Wisconsin Library Bulletin 71(May-June, 1975): 113-114.
Tells of a communication system developed among school, public, and academic libraries in Ramsey County, north of St. Paul.

Vanko, Lillian. "The Future is There." Illinois Libraries 55(Jan., 1973): 23-27.
Discusses collaboration of the Chicago school system with the Children's Department of the Public Library.

Whitelock, Al. "Them and Us." Wyoming Library Roundup 30(December, 1975): 6.
Reports on problems of school-public library coordination in New Hampshire. Recommends some basic areas suitable for coordination at library and board level.

Wisconsin Dept. of Public Instruction. Division for Library Services. "Public Library and School Library; Organizational Relationships and Interlibrary Cooperation." Wisconsin Library Bulletin 72(May-June, 1976): 131-34.

Wolford, J. "Cooperation Means and Action." Ohio Library Association Bulletin 45(July, 1975): 34+ . Erratum. Ohio Library Association Bulletin 45 (October, 1975): 24.
Lists some areas of cooperation and a checklist for developing a cooperative quotient.

Woolls, Esther B. "Cooperative Library Services to Children in Public Libraries and Public School Systems in Selected Communities in Indiana." Ph.D. dissertation. Indiana University, 1973.